India Tells U. S. to Keep Arms, Leave Kashmir

NEW DELHI, India (UP)—Premier Jawaharlal Nehru flatly rejected President Eisenhower's offer of military aid today and angrily demanded that American observers get out of disputed Kashmir.

Nehru said the Americans were unwelcome in the divided northern province, where a truce is in effect, because Pakistan has accepted military aid from the United States.

The Americans assailed by Nehru are members of a United Nations team which has been observing the cease-fire in Kashmir just as Nehru's forces had served in Korea after the truce was signed. Nehru said the entire dispute between India and Pakistan over strategic Kashmir, which both countries claim, had been reopened by Pakistan's acceptance of Mr. Eisenhower's offer of military assistance.

"Now the whole issue has to be considered from an entirely different viewpoint when across the cease-fire line on the other side large additional forces are being thrown in from the open into Pakistan and put at the disposal of Pakistan," Nehru charges in a speech to India's parliament.

President Eisenhower has assured Nehru that American aid was aimed solely at thwarting aggression, not encouraging it. "I have no doubt the President is opposed to aggression," Nehru said. "But we know from past experience that aggression takes place and nothing is done to thwart it."

"Aggression took place in Kashmir six and a half years ago with dire consequences. Nevertheless the United States has not thus far condemned it and we are asked not to stress this point in the interest of peace."

Fire Destroys O'Dell Home on N. Elm

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert O'Dell at 514 N. Elm was completely destroyed by fire about 10:30 a. m. Sunday. Origin of the blaze could not be immediately determined.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell were not at home at the time of the fire. The Fire Department reported a complete loss of the frame house and household goods.

Fireman said a high wind, as in the case of the Haskell Jones home, fanned the blaze to such intensity that they were lucky to keep other homes from catching. Sparks were flying and caught fire to a tree more than two blocks away on the Oglesby school yard.

Residents of the neighborhood reported the blaze which had completely engulfed the house by the time firemen arrived. There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

President Still Oppose Tax Exemption

By RX CHANY

WASHINGTON (UP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr. said today that President Eisenhower is still opposed to increasing personal income tax exemptions.

The Massachusetts Republican made the statement after a tax program discussion at the White House.

Martin and the Republican leaders of the House and Senate devoted a good part of their weekly legislative meeting with Mr. Eisenhower to mapping the mechanics of getting administration tax proposals through Congress by the end of this month.

Martin said the House leadership expects to have tax legislation on the floor within two weeks.

Many congressional Democrats are driving for a hike in income tax exemptions. But they are on notice they may run into a presidential veto even should they win the day in Congress.

Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey said last night that unless there is a "drastic" change in the economy he will urge Mr. Eisenhower to veto any bill to raise exemptions.

Humphrey, who approves "a selective reduction" in excise taxes, participated in the White House conference.

Martin and Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland said Mr. Eisenhower took no position today regarding excise taxes because he did not know what the House Ways and Means committee will recommend.

After Martin said the President was "opposed" to increasing personal income tax exemptions rates he turned to White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty for confirmation.

Hagerty said this was correct and that his only detailed comment was that an increase of $100 — to $700 — in the personal exemption rate would cost the government $2,500,000,000.

Martin pointed out that Mr. Eisenhower's opposition to increasing personal exemptions is nothing new and that today's meeting did not concern sections of the tax program as much as it dealt with the mechanics of legislative consideration.

The Slightest Heart Tremor of Movieland Is Recorded in Big Way by Movie Magazines

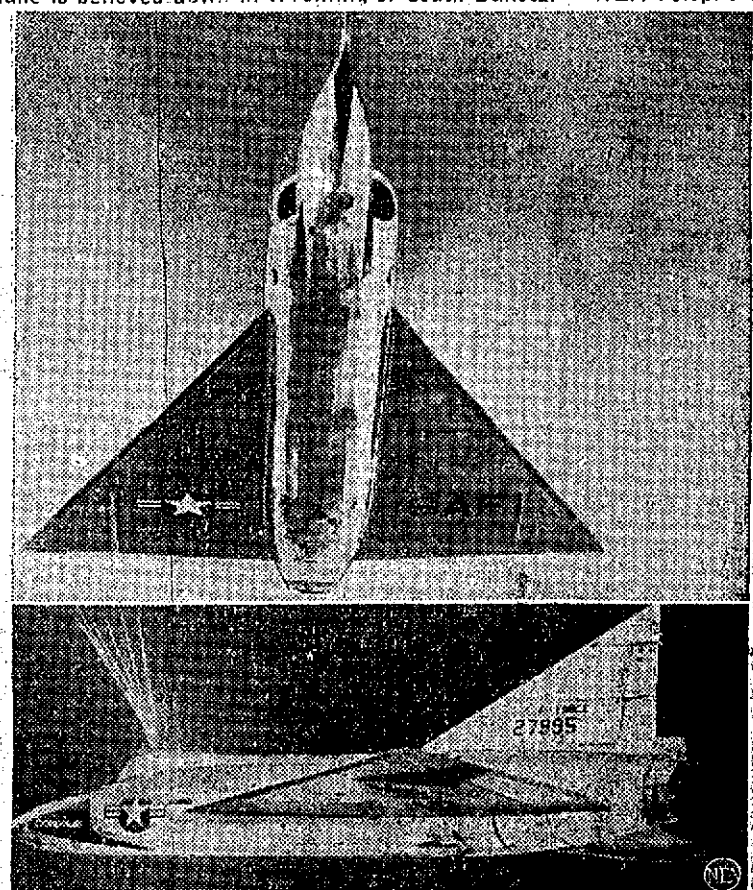

By SAUL PETT

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (UP)—Somebody dumped a pile of old movie fan magazines near my desk and I worked them over. It was harrowing.

It also was inspirational, in a way, because these editors seem to have such great, big, ubiquitous hearts. Moreover they must use very sensitive seismographs to detect the slightest heart tremors anywhere in the world.

In March 1953, Motion Picture Magazine found the Gregory Peckes abroad, where he was making a picture, and they wrote an article about it. "The first time I saw Gregory Peck was in a picture," they wrote. "The next month, a title in Film Magazine echoed the enchantment: 'Live alone and like'

Benson Sees Sound Farm Program Ahead

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in his first annual report to the President, said today 1953 was a year in which a long decline in farm prices had been halted and a "sound permanent" farm program had been developed.

It also was a year the secretary said, in which steps were taken to adjust agriculture's production — expanded greatly during and after the war — to peacetime needs.

Benson said the Eisenhower administration had inherited problems of surpluses, overproduction and declining farm prices from the Truman administration. Much of the new administration's first year in office he said, was to deal with these problems so that it could move "monstrously" toward putting agriculture on a sound basis.

"The problem was made more difficult because the tools available were not fully adequate to the needs of the 1950s," Benson said. "The present farm programs were basically developed during the 1930s as a part of the battle against the depression of those years."

Final Rites for Officials of Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (UP)—Funeral services were scheduled today for Police Chief E. G. Huckabay and Deputy Sheriff Maurice Miller of Bossier Parish, both killed Saturday in a three-hour gun battle with a Negro farm hand.

The two men were killed by Man West about 42, when he was being served a warrant charging him with non-support of his wife and five children. West also was killed in the gun battle.

Miller was shot four times as he entered a cabin about 15 miles south of Shreveport occupied by West's mother, who fled from it when the shooting started.

West barricaded himself after shooting Miller. Police opened fire and lobbed tear gas shells into the cabin when they learned Miller was dead.

Huckabay was hit in the neck and died about an hour later.

McCarthy Asks Stevens in for 'Explanation'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigating subcommittee today invited Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens to testify in closed session this week to explain what McCarthy called "contradictions" in the army's policy of discharging alleged Communists.

McCarthy (R-Wis.) told reporters he is "disturbed by these contradictions." He said a reformed Communist received a discharge slightly less than honorable, but a witness who refused to answer questions about communism at a closed hearing today is still in the army, and a major who refused earlier received an honorable discharge.

McCarthy, how has been feuding with Stevens said he is satisfied that the secretary had not known about the three cases. But he said the cases are "confusing" and he wants Stevens to explain the differences in policy.

McCarthy said the subcommittee voted today to recommend a contempt of Congress citation against Pvt. David Linfield of New York. McCarthy said Linfield was uncooperative.

He said the other witness today, Sidney Rubenstein, 25 of New York was "very cooperative" and confided the committee that he had had no connection with the Communist Party since 1948.

But McCarthy said Rubenstein was released from the army Feb. 18 with a "general discharge under honorable conditions" — which in the army ranks a grade lower than a straight honorable discharge.

McCarthy said Linfield a slim, dark youth in an ill-fitting private's uniform, pleaded the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination on many questions including even names of some of his relatives.

The third case to which McCarthy referred was that of Dr. Irving Peress, former army doctor who received an honorable discharge Feb. 2 after refusing to answer McCarthy's questions about communism. McCarthy called Peress a "Fifth Amendment Communist." McCarthy's language in questioning Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker about the Peress discharge brought Stevens into the fight to object to "what he called McCarthy's 'unwarranted abuse' of army witnesses."

Eight Die in New York Hotel Blaze

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (UP)—Another employee died today as a result of yesterday's fire in a staff residence at widely known Grossinger Hotel and Country Club, making the death toll eight. Twenty-five workers were injured.

Seven men and women were killed in the early morning blaze. The eighth fatality was Mrs. Anna Rubenstein, 58, waitress, of Liberty N. Y. She died in a hospital.

Prompt action by fire fighters kept the blaze from spreading to other buildings at the resort, which had a weekend guest list of 900. Among them is heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, who is in training.

Most of the guests apparently slept through the early morning blaze, which took 45 minutes to get under control.

Fire authorities, who were continuing to investigate the cause of the blaze, estimated damage at $30,000.

None of those injured was reported in serious condition today. Many were hurt jumping in their nightclothes from windows of the burning 2½-story stucco-covered frame structure.

The dead were identified as Siegfried Haas, 51, and his wife Erna, 49; David Bernstein 30 and his wife Hannah 32; Fannie Rosenthal, 39 Catherine Krick, 45 and Jack Shildkret, 40.

Egypt, Syria Rioting Kills at Least 37

By GERALD ARATHOON KHARTOUM, Sudan (UP)—

Twenty-five persons were reported killed today in a battle between police and spear-wielding anti-Egyptian rioters on the arrival of President Mohammed Naguib of Egypt to attend the state opening of a new parliament.

Sudanese authorities put the death toll at 14 policemen and 11 rioters in a wild battle fought in the streets of the city.

Police said more than 100 persons were injured.

Sir Robert Howe, governor general of the Sudan proclaimed a state of emergency in Khartoum. Because of the rioting, the state opening of parliament which Naguib had come to attend was postponed indefinitely.

Naguib, restored to the Egyptian presidency with increased prestige only 48 hours after the

Five Killed in Philadelphia Explosion

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Five persons including three children in a neighborhood luncheonette, were killed last night when a violent explosion destroyed two buildings in a crowded section of South Philadelphia.

A 17-year-old girl, Ruby Mosley, trapped for six hours in a public telephone booth under the mountain of rubble, escaped unharmed. Twenty others, including four firemen, were injured.

The blast of undetermined origin, occurred on a quiet Sunday night in one of the most densely populated areas of the city. Deputy Fire Chief George E. Hink said it was "amazing" that the death toll was not higher.

The roofs of two adjoining three-story brick buildings were lifted into the air turned halfway around and dropped on the rear of the structures. Not a wall was standing when firemen arrived, and flames licked at the pile of debris. Some 500 persons were routed from their homes and Red Cross authorities estimated 50 families were sheltered for the night.

The buildings housed the luncheonette and an adjoining jewelry store. The upper stoler contained apartments.

The victims included the proprietor of the luncheonette, Isadore Pearlman, 60, and three young customers. The bodies of Bruce Schwartz 9, and Salvatore Bala-dino 6, were found under the soda fountain. The body of 15-year-old Marine Marone was undiscovered nearby.

The fifth victim was Mrs. Fanny Rudolph, 45, who lived in an apartment above the jewelry store. Her husband Samuel, 45 suffered cuts and bruises.

The impact of the explosion bent an electric sign across the street into a U-shape. Windows for blocks were shattered.

All Around the Town

By The Star Staff

Miss Helga Loew, young German teacher who has been observing community and school practices here for the past month, will leave Wednesday for New England where she will observe for another month before returning home by plane in April. . . . asked how she liked it here, Miss Loew promptly replied, "Wonderful" . . . in fact she seemed a little worried about returning home, fearing she had become spoiled by the automobiles . . . in Germany autos are too expensive for the average family, hence most of the travel is done on public conveyances or on bicycles. . . . she was amazed at the meetings, parties and various functions which seem to have everyone on the go all time and wondered when Americans find time to relax and enjoy their homes. . . . (It sometimes wonders myself) . . . the most impressive community activity in Miss Loew was the $1,000 raised by local folks to send young David Foreman to a voice school. . . .

Strange it is that the O'Dell home on North Elm which burned Sunday had the same number, 514, as the John P. Cox home which burned on South Elm Friday morning.

All Red Cross workers appointed by Principal W. V. Rutherford to assist in the fund drive are looking for Mr. Cox's home at 7 p. m. tonight for donuts and coffee.

New Concrete building has been laid in front of the First Baptist Church and will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

Ian Stuart

Principal speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet will be Ian Stuart, director of public relations of the Southern States Industrial Council of Nashville, Tenn.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 5 in the High School cafeteria. Mr. Stuart will address students of Hope High at 1:30 p. m.

A native of Dublin, Ireland, Mr. Stuart came to the United States in 1927 as a guest of the conference on secondary education and later the same year returned to the U. S. with his wife and children to make his home.

His background, philosophy of life, and his ability as a speaker assures any group of a worthwhile experience. A former teacher, Mr. Stuart is especially effective in schools.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office and must be purchased by Wednesday afternoon.

Senate Gives Nod to Warren

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate today confirmed President Eisenhower's appointment of Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

The Senate approval came on a voice vote with no audible "no's."

There was little discussion. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) gave the Senate a brief resume of Warren's career and Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.) praised the nominee.

About 40 senators were present when Warren's nomination was confirmed.

Warren, three times elected governor of California and the GOP vice presidential candidate in 1948, has been serving on the Supreme Court since last October under a recess appointment made while Congress was in adjournment.

Republican Leader Knowland of California, first appointed to the Senate by Warren, predicted overwhelming confirmation of the nomination. He said he did not know whether he would ask for a formal roll-call vote.

While confirmation seemed assured, two Southern Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee—Eastland of Mississippi and Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina—indicated they intended to vote against the appointment.

Girl Cries Free Puerto Rico, Bullets Spray

WASHINGTON (UP)—A girl screamed "Free Puerto Rico" and two men opened fire with pistols on Congressmen in the House of Representatives chamber today, and wounded five.

The following members of the House were wounded:

Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md.)

Rep. Pen F. Jensen (R-Ia.) shot in the back.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.) shot in chest.

Rep. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.) shot in the calf of the left leg.

Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala.) shot in the leg.

The shootings recalled the attempted assassination of former President Truman on Nov. 1, 1950, when two Puerto Rican Nationalists tried to storm Blair House where Mr. Truman was living while the White House was being repaired.

A White House guard was killed, one of the Puerto Ricans slain and the second, Oscar Collazo, tried and sentenced to death. Mr. Truman later commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

The marksmen rose in their seats as Speaker Martin was counting a division vote on a bill to admit Mexican laborers to this country.

The woman shouted, "Free Puerto Rico!"

Then they turned loose what Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) described as German automatics.

Members dived for the floor. Several fell wounded.

Most members temporarily were stunned, as if in disbelief. Some thought the blasts were blanks.

Only as they saw the wounded fall to the floor, blood spurting from their wounds, did they realize what had happened.

Van Zandt estimated there were 25 or 30 shots. Others thought there were fewer.

Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala.) also was shot in the leg. He was carried from the building apparently in great pain and was taken to a hospital.

Jensen bleeding from the back, was taken to the speaker's lobby off the chamber and was placed on the floor until a stretcher could be brought.

Bentley was hit in the chest and apparently was in serious condition.

Van Zandt ran up the stairs to the gallery. He said he grabbed one of the young Puerto Ricans as he sought to reload his gun. Van Zandt said he grabbed his gun and turned him over to Capitol police.

Dr. George Calver, capital physician, reached the floor only a few minutes after the shooting began. His assistants already were on the job.

House Speaker Martin, trying to restore order, ordered the galleries cleared. All but members were ordered off the crowded floor in order to give first aid squads room to work.

Members and attendants pitched in to help carry the wounded members out and to summon E. Summerfield, who was just off the House floor, lent a hand in trying to make the bleeding Earl comfortable as he lay in the well of the House.

Davis shot in the leg, was last to be carried from the House floor, after being given first aid.

William Keever of Quincy, Mass. said he entered the gallery ahead of the Puerto Rican gunman. He said he didn't get much of a look at them.

"They were just behind me," he said. "The first time the woman stood up and started shouting, I jumped over my seat and ran like hell. Then they

Are Married

Miss Barbara Jean Bright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bright, became the bride of Thomas G. Beard, son of Grady Beard and the late Mrs. Delphia Beard, in a ceremony performed by A. T. Oliver on Sunday afternoon February 28, at four o'clock at the Walnut Street Church of Christ.

The vows were read before an altar decorated with baskets of white stock against a background of fern and palms. White tapers burned in branched candelabra.

The candlelighters in identical white ballerina length dresses, were Misses "Billie" Joe Rogers and Joyce Greenlee. They wore wristlets of pink perfection camellias.

Music was recordings of "Because," "I Love Thee," and the traditional wedding marches, by the A Cappella Chorus from Abilene Christian College.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, wore a ballerina length frock of nylon net and lace over taffeta, fashioned with a full skirt and fitted bodice. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a lace coronet encircled with feathered carnations. She carried a single white orchid on a white Bible surrounded by white satin streamers. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. E. A. Tyronne of Texarkana, was matron of honor. She chose an afternoon frock of mint green nylon net over taffeta, and carried a bouquet of laurel leaf camellias with matching blossoms in her hair.

Miss Vancell Trout, bridesmaid, wore a ballerina length dress of pink net over taffeta, fashioned with a strapless bodice and a short cape with a collar of pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink perfection camellias with matching flowers in her hair.

William Beard served his brother as best man. Ushers were Wiley Croom, Joel Osburn, Jimmie Cook and Donald Tunstall.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bright was attired in a gown of floral print tissue paper taffeta and black accessories. Her corsage was pink camellias.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The three-tiered wedding cake formed the centerpiece of the table which was covered with a pink linen cloth. Florets of pink stock and fern encircled the cake and white candles burned in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. Rosa Harrie presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. William Beard, sister-in-law of the groom, served the cake. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Dewey Baber, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lahroy Spates. Mrs. M. B. Hatch assisted in the receiving line. Members of the house party wore corsages of camellias.

An arrangement of yellow forsythe and jonquils was placed on one end of the mantel in the living room, with a basket of similar flowers on the floor at the opposite end. Other arrangements of white bridal wreath and narcissus completed the decorations.

For travel the bride chose a blue and gray striped bolero suit with mauve accessories and pinned an orchid at her shoulder.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will be at home in Houma, Louisiana.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Troy Aslin of Atlanta, Texas Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stephens of Texarkana, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cleaver of Magnolia, and Mrs. Morris Tollery of Shreveport.

METHODISTS BELIEVE

We Believe in Man

We hold as central the dignity and sacredness of every human personality. Man is made in the spiritual image of God and partakes of His character and fellowship. He is greater than the world through which God produces and sustains His life. The Scriptures remind us that man is a sinner and has fallen short of the glory of God. He may, however, through grace, rise above his sin and the circumstances which surround him. His glory is in his humanity and not his race or color. Endowed with freedom of choice, he may descend to the lowest hell or rise to the highest heaven. In him as a person all the moral ends of the universe and all the movement of God's eternal purpose find meaning and value.
